

2016 AOH St. Pat's Day Run

Saturday, 12 March – Today's AOH races started on schedule at about 11 a.m. with the temperature at 5 °C and a cold splattering rain, driven by a 9-mps tailwind, cooling the runners for about the first ten minutes of the race until the micro-storm subsided and the tailwind diminished to 6 mps. Somewhat blustery weather held the participation total below last year's record of 732 finishers, but the favorable running conditions made fast finish times abundant for those who did brave the conditions.
